

Scientific Games Showcases Full OpenSports Solution and Casino Content at ICE North America

LAS VEGAS – May 14, 2019 – Scientific Games Corporation (NASDAQ: SGMS) (“Scientific Games”) is showcasing its full portfolio of complete, end-to-end sportsbook and digital casino solutions at ICE North America, held at the Boston Convention and Exhibition Center.

Scientific Games is exhibiting its OpenSports proposition from Stand A30. The modular and flexible full-stack sportsbook solution comprises five pillars:

- OpenBet™ - The industry’s proven and scalable betting engine
- OpenPlatform - Player account management including promotions and wallet
- OpenTrade - Full risk and liability management, pricing and trading tools
- OpenEngage - Full turnkey frontends across mobile, web and retail
- OpenAccelerate – Helping operators more effectively implement, manage and run the day to day business of their sportsbook

The redesigned sportsbook solution can be scaled, mixed, and matched to meet the needs of any regulated operator.

Scientific Games is also bringing its groundbreaking digital casino content to ICE North America, showcasing its upcoming roadmap of innovative titles and features. Titles on display will include Jin Ji Bao Xi™ Endless Treasure™, a land-based hit reimaged for the digital arena; Merlin’s Money Burst®; and new games that leverage the Megaways™ brand, licensed to SG Digital by Big Time Gaming - including the recently released Medusa™ Megaways. Available on Scientific Games’ award-winning Open Gaming System content aggregation platform, the titles feature player-favorite themes and mechanics that bring player experience to the next level.

Jordan Levin, Group Chief Executive, Digital at Scientific Games, said: “We are proud to highlight the evolution of our sportsbook and casino products and services at ICE North America, a show that provides the perfect platform to showcase our landmark OpenSports product suite and winning casino content. Our unified product portfolio represents the next step in empowering our partners to deliver enhanced customer engagement as we continue to offer more innovative solutions for today's players.”
