

Scientific Games To Explore The 2021 Trends That Matter Most For Operators At Asia Summit + Virtual Experience

Company's virtual event to analyze hot topics and showcase the latest product developments

LAS VEGAS – April 29, 2021 – Scientific Games Corporation (NASDAQ: SGMS) (“Scientific Games” or the “Company”) is set to delve into the latest trends and developments that will shape the future of the casino at its upcoming Asia Summit & Virtual Experience.

The virtual event, which is exclusively for the Company’s customers, takes place between 11-12 May and will deliver insight, analysis, and ideas for operators to navigate their way through today’s challenging marketplace and drive their recovery plans.

An extensive schedule of panel discussions over the two-day period will share insights from Company thought leaders on games, systems, and technology:

- The Company’s game designers will share details of the latest and upcoming slot releases, including Duo Fu Duo Cai - Hurricane Horse, Jin Ji Bao Xi – Singing Cats, and 123 Wild.
- A panel on table games will specifically focus on key products that will increase profitability including the Quartz Terminals and Table Progressives and Utilities
- Technology experts from the Systems team will offer insight on the innovation path which includes new products that will optimize operations and create a better player experience.

Delegates will have access to a virtual booth where they can experience 360-degree demos of all the latest products from Scientific Games’ ever-expanding offering.

CEO of Scientific Games’ Gaming Business Unit Matt Wilson, said: “We’re excited to welcome all partners from across the Asia region to the latest installment of our virtual summit series, which promises to offer an event experience like no other.”

“In these difficult and uncertain times, it’s incredibly important to remain connected with one another and remain informed of the latest trends. We remain committed to help our customers drive their recovery and with several new product developments to unveil and industry topics to analyze, we’re looking forward to the Summit and engaging with both new and existing customers.”

The virtual Summit is the latest example of Scientific Games utilizing digital platforms to connect with customers in new and innovative ways. Previous virtual events hosted by Scientific Games have effectively sparked engaging discussions on relevant industry topics and resulted in new installations that support customers in operating safely and effectively during the pandemic.

Con Nikitas, National Gaming Manager at ALH Group, said: “Attending the SG Summit + Virtual Experience was a great way for me to hear about upcoming products and to engage with the product experts in real time on the live panel sessions. Overall, the experience was delivered in a highly professional way and I was impressed. I liked that I could see videos and also download product details.”
